SLIGHT HITCH OCCURS

MISUNDERSTANDING OVER THE NEUTRALIZATION OF SAKHALIN ISLAND.

CLAIMS RIGHT TO FORTIFY

RUSSIA, HOWEVER, HOLDS THAT JAPAN MUST NOT ADOPT A SIMILAR COURSE.

Portsmouth, N. H., Sept. 2.—The only possible hitch on the horizon of the peace conference, according to reports current here, which, however, are not officially confirmed, arises out of an evident misunderstanding over the question of the neutralization of the island of Sakhalin.

According to the Japanese, the understanding reached on Tuesday contemplated a mutual obligation on the part of the two countries not to fortify their respective possessions on the island. At St. Petersburg, however, there seems to have been an assumption that the agreement involved freedom of action upon the part of Russia in this respect in the north of Sakhalin, with an obligation on the part of the Japanese not to fortify or use for strategic purposes the portion owned by her before 1876, which is to be retroceded in the present treaty. It is expected on both sides, however, that the hitch, if it really exists, as reported, will shortly be straightened out, and it is believed that one of the subjects of Friday night's conference related to this point.

As a result of the reports made public Friday night by M. de Martens and Mr. Dennison to their respective chiefs upon their work Friday afternoon at the navyyard in the drafting of a treaty of peace, M. Witte and Baron Komura had a brief conference in the former's apartments at 8:30 p. m. regarding some details of translation and the few points of interpretation upon which the framers had been unable to reach complete accord. When Baron Komura left Mr. Dennison and Mr. Adachi, he entered the apartments of M. Witte, where they were joined by M. de Martens and Mr. Plancon. This conference lasted for about half an hour, when the Japanese returned to Baron Komura's apartments, leaving M. Witte and his conferees, who remained in conference for more than an hour.

Agreement on Disputed Points.

M. Witte and Baron Komura had no difficulty in coming to an agreement on the disputed points and at Saturday's session the framers of the treaty expect to complete their work. The treaty must then be engrossed in French and English in duplicate, which may take several days. It is stated that twelve articles of the treaty have been completed and agreed upon. It now seems probable that the framers will be able to confine the treaty to fourteen articles instead of fifteen, as was the original plan.

M. Witte continues to receive messages of congratulation from all over the world. He reads each one of them and gives directions to his secretaries regarding the answers to be sent.

Japan has refused to consent to the cessation of hostilities until the treaty of peace has been signed. The Russians reluctantly agreed to it.

The effect of the armistice is that it becomes operative only upon the signature of the treaty by the plenipotentiaries and continues until the final exchange of ratification of the emperors of the two countries. It is for this reason that the plenipotentiaries who will themselves convey to their respective capitals the momentous document, which to become binding must receive the signatures of their respective emperors, are anxious to leave at the earliest possible date, foregoing the innumerable invitations which have been showered upon them.

Cable communication between Baron Komura and his government was interrupted for the greater part of Friday, but a message is said to have been received late at night. Baron Komura and Mr. Takhira were in conference for a long time Friday night. It is understood to be the present intention of the Tokio government not to make public the conditions of peace until the ratification of the treaty has been exchanged. The official explanation is that this is the "regular diplomatic method of procedure," but among the Japanese correspondents considerable suspicion has been aroused by the fact that until now their cablegrams giving the terms of peace have not passed the censor. They do not hesitate to say the government is anxious about the effect on public opinion when it becomes known that Japan waived her demand for indemnity to obtain peace.

TRYING TO IMPRESS THE SHAH.

Russia to Show Persian Ruler She Is Still a Great Military Power.

London, Sept. 2.—The correspondent of the Morning Post at St. Petersburg asserts that the Russian government is making efforts to impress upon the shah of Persia that Russia is still a great military power. Some of the finest troops in the empire are now concentrated at St. Petersburg, according to the correspondent, who says that the police have ordered every household to display the Persian flag on the occasion of the shah's arrival.

The shah of Persia has arrived at the frontier and will reach Peterhof Saturday afternoon.

JAP MERCHANT DISAPPOINTED.

Leading Oriental at Cleveland Renounces Allegiance to the Mikado.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 2.—Disappointed because the Japanese government renounced all claim to indemnity and did not insist on greater territorial demands from Russia, Sinosuke Kitani, Cleveland's leading Japanese merchant, has renounced his allegiance to the mikado by taking out his first naturalization papers. Similar action on the part of his fellow countrymen is said to be also contemplated, as they believe their country showed great weakness.

MILLIONAIRE'S HOME LOOTED.

One Hundred Thousand Dollars' Worth of Plunder Obtained.

New York, Sept. 2.—Jose Aymer's residence at No. 76 East Fifty-fourth street has been plundered during the past week of jewelry, bric-a-brac, paintings, silver, etc., worth, it is alleged, more than $100,000. The police made the robbery public late Friday.

Mr. Aymer is a millionaire lawyer, who married Miss Lillian La Bau Vanderbilt.

The family is in Canada. The police telegraphed Mr. Aymer and he wired his valet to take charge at the house.

"There were $200,000 worth of paintings, jewelry, silver and bric-a-brac in the house," said the valet, "and fully half of it is gone."

FEVER IN NEW YORK

EMPLOYEE OF PANAMA RAILWAY SERIOUSLY ILL ON SWINBURNE ISLAND.

New York, Sept. 2.—Henry Wardell, an American employed by the Panama railway as a boilermaker, is seriously ill with yellow fever in the quarantine hospital on Swinburne Island. Wardell arrived in New York Thursday as a first cabin passenger on the Panama railway steamer Havana from Colon.

New Orleans, Sept. 2.—Following is the official yellow fever report up to 3 p. m. Friday:
New cases, 39; total cases to date, 1,958; deaths, 4; total deaths to date, 281; new sub-foci, 10.

For the first time in several weeks the number of new cases on a weekday was below 40, which is regarded as conclusive evidence of the steady improvement in the local situation. Among the new cases is Father Hoese of St. Ann's church, whose parish has had considerable infection and who has labored among his people from the beginning.

Assistant Surgeon Rucker of the marine hospital service is down with a slight fever, but his case has not yet been diagnosed as yellow fever. The country is now the scene of anxiety, because now the city is being cleared of infection there is danger of infection from the country, despite all the precautions that have been taken to guard against it.

Among the reports Friday were two new cases from Mississippi City and two from Natchez.

OLD RANGE WAR AGAIN ON.

Flock of Eight Thousand Sheep Killed in Wyoming.

Basin, Wyo., Sept. 2.—The old war between the cattlemen and sheepmen has broken out again in the Big Horn basin. The first clash resulted in the killing of a flock of 8,000 sheep in one herd, the property of L. A. Gantz, whose range is on Snell creek.

It was the worst raid in the history of the war, and further trouble is expected, as both sides are guarding their herds. The sheep camp was visited at night by a band of masked armed men.

Fatal Explosion of Gasoline.

St. Paul, Sept. 2.—Mrs. Bridget Zengerle, sixty-nine years old, living with her son, Nicholas Zengerle, 119 West Third street, received probably fatal injuries by the explosion of a gasoline stove in her home Friday. She was seriously burned about the back, abdomen, hands and arms.

One of our patrons recently suggested that we carry a more expensive grade of goods in a certain line. We had supposed that we would meet the demands of our patrons in the qualities we carried, but we went a little below the mark. We were very grateful for the suggestion and the future will see a more expensive line of these fabrics carried.

We heartily thanked her

NINE PERSONS DEAD

FORTY-THREE OTHERS ARE AFFLICTED WITH CHOLERA IN GERMANY.

RUSSIANS VERY APATHETIC

AUTHORITIES OF THAT COUNTRY HAVE NOT BEEN AROUSED TO THE DANGER.

Berlin, Sept. 2.—Forty-three cases of cholera in all have been reported. Nine persons have died from the disease and many suspicious cases are under observation. The legal and medical machinery for dealing with this invasion of the Asiatic bacillus is now working at full pressure.

Professor Edward Sonnenburg said Friday night that no one need fear an epidemic such as that of 1892-93.

because the health authorities since that time had built up an organization quite adequate to grasp the beginnings of cholera and to put down the disease with precision and firmness. The health machinery to which Professor Sonnenburg alluded is working in co-operation with the police and other public services. With the exception of the one death at Hamburg, the cholera is confined to the West Prussian districts and every case of illness in these districts must be immediately reported to the authorities. An experienced physician and bacteriologist at once takes the case under observation and if the symptoms are suspicious the person is promptly isolated.

The state has now detained under medical observation nearly 1,000 persons, including the immigrants at Brunshaven. Cautions have been distributed and co-operation urged between the different departments.

Russians Not Aroused.

If the same precautions were at work beyond the Russian frontier the Prussian health authorities would feel satisfied with what is being done. A doubt, almost to conviction, exists that the Russian authorities have not been aroused to the danger and that its task of dealing with the problem is much more difficult than that which confronts the authorities here.

The Wissen Schaffchen Correspondenz cites the recent declaration of the Russian plague commission that since April 21 no case of cholera has occurred in the Russian empire and that the suspicious cases reported in Vilna, Lodz, Radom, Tula, Rjasan and other places were, as bacteriological investigations showed, not Asiatic cholera. "Where, then," says the paper, "did the Asiatic cholera now in West Prussia come from? As a matter of fact," it goes on to say, "the Prussian health officials were apprehensive of the existence of cholera since the beginning of the year and their reports showed that the pestilence had left Arabia and was marching over Syria, Mesopotamia and Persia, thence across the Caspian sea into European Russia and onward up the Volga."

The boerse Friday felt the effect of the prevalence of cholera, especially shipping companies, the shares of which fell from 3 to 4 per cent.

EXTRA PRECAUTIONS TAKEN.

To Prevent Cholera Being Brought to New York.

New York, Sept. 2.—That extra precautions shall be taken to prevent bringing in a case of cholera among immigrants from German ports was agreed Friday at a conference between Health Officer A. C. Doty of this port and the representatives of several Transatlantic steamship companies. The plan is said to be the exercise of great care in taking the emigrants on board ships in German ports. The discovery of a case of cholera in Hamburg was the cause for the conference.

Dr. Doty said after the conference that he had no reason to think that cholera would get to New York.

Cholera in Galicia.

Vienna, Sept. 2.—Several cases of suspected cholera are reported from Baden and from Neurody, in Galicia.

The government is taking measures to combat the danger.

PACKERS MUST PLEAD.

Ordered to Face Charges in Court at Springfield, Ill.

Chicago, Sept. 2.—Officers, employees and lawyers of the large packing industries, who were indicted by the last federal grand jury on charges of conspiracy and violation of federal anti-trust and interstate commerce laws, have been ordered to appear in the United States district court before Judge Humphrey of Springfield on next Tuesday, Sept. 5, and enter their pleas of guilty or not guilty to the charges.

This step was decided on by Attorney General William H. Moody Friday and the official notices and orders citing the defendants into court were placed in the hands of United States Marshal Ames and his deputies.

Unknown Woman a Suicide.

Minneapolis, Sept. 2.—The lifeless body of a young and pretty woman hanging by a shawl strap from the limb of a tree was the startling discovery made by John Simons as he was hunting rabbits in the woods between Thirty-second and Penn avenues north, near Crystal Lake avenue, at 5 o'clock Friday afternoon. The woman has not yet been identified.

INSURGENTS LEAVE SOFIA.

Bulgarians and Macedonians Expected to Raid Turkish Territory.

London, Sept. 2.—Information has reached London from Sofia that 800 Bulgarian-Macedonian insurgents, followers of Boris Sarafoff, have left Sofia and are expected to raid Turkish territory. It is supposed in Sofia that some big movement is on foot and the Turkish authorities fear disturbances. The Bulgarian bands in Macedonia are extremely mobile.

PFISTER ISSUES A STATEMENT.

Milwaukee Capitalist Claims He Did Not Steal Money.

Milwaukee, Sept. 2.—Charles F. Pfister, the capitalist, who was indicted three weeks ago by the grand jury on the charge of having stolen $14,000, which had been placed in his hands by the Wisconsin Rendering company, has made public a statement showing the manner in which the $25,000 which he had held for the company was disbursed. After the indictment was returned the president of the rendering company denied that Mr. Pfister had misappropriated any of its money and since then the company has made full payment on notes held against it by Mr. Pfister, without offering any counter claim. The insinuation, however, has been circulated that the money, if not misappropriated, was used for corrupt purposes by Mr. Pfister. The statement now issued is corroborated by the bank record showing Mr. Pfister's personal account, by a statement signed by President F. C. Gross, Joseph Schaff and Louis Schoyer of the Wisconsin Rendering company, and also by a statement signed by John J. Criley, the contractor to whom most of the money was paid. Criley, in acknowledging the payments to him, explains that at the time the city contract was awarded to his firm he found himself unable to enter into the contract on account of lack of funds. He then entered into an agreement with the Wisconsin Rendering company, which had an established plant at Mequon, that if that company would put up $25,000, with some responsible man, out of which was to be paid the expenses Criley was put to in connection with the contract, the work would be turned over to the rendering company. Mr. Pfister was selected as the custodian of this fund. He had no interest with any of the bidders and paid out the money in accordance with the orders of the parties interested and had nothing to do with it further. None of this money, Criley states, was used for unlawful purposes.

These payments show conclusively that Mr. Pfister did not steal any of the rendering company's money and also that he did not use any of it in an improper manner.

COSTLY FIRE IN PORTLAND.

Elevator and Dock in the Oregon City Eadly Damaged.

Portland, Ore., Sept. 2.—Fire Friday destroyed the elevator dock and seriously damaged the Albina dock, entailing a total loss of $330,000, equally divided between the Pacific Coast Elevator company and the Oregon Railroad and Navigation company. The docks lay on the east side of the Willamette river in the Albina yards of the Oregon Railroad and Navigation company, and contained a large quantity of new wheat. Sixty thousand bushels of wheat were destroyed. The origin of the fire is unknown. A gale blowing at the rate of thirty miles an hour from the east carried the flames across the Willamette river and the dry kiln of the Eastern and Western Lumber company, on the west side, was also burned.

THE new anti-tipping law went into effect in New York September 1st, and from now on none but waiters can receive the customary tip or bribe. The law was intended as a check on the purchasing agents of the big corporations who have long made it impossible for supply men to sell anything without giving a large bonus, but in the future the servants of the rich who have accepted commissions from tradespeople will be barred also. A Warning to Parents.
Replying to the communication from the lady who signs herself "A Mother," LET US FACE THE ISSUE—The commercial club, was not, (as I understand it) organized to regulate prices, but to encourage and plan for new enterprises and this helps our city which is of mutual interest to the laboring men and the business man who labors.
A VIVID FACT—Before God, the Commercial club, I believe, to be EQUALLY GUILTY as the Trades and Labor Assembly in offering prizes that drag down the manhood of our nation.

REGARDING PRICES FOR LIVING—Constant attention; soliciting orders, frequent deliveries and bad accounts are expensive, and need to be met.

OUR REMINDER—Give your home merchant an opportunity to sell you goods in the same quantities and on the same conditions as the catalogue house.

ABOVE ALL ELSE—Is the value of your boy's and girl's future, and am pleased to know, that this mother, like the Spartan mothers of old, would prefer to see them dead and safe in Jesus, than disgraced by the liquor habit.

To lose our wealth is much,
To lose our health, is more,
But to lose our Soul, is such a loss,
That no man, can restore.
Respectfully Yours,

NOT MANY CHICKENS ARE BROUGHT DOWN

Hunters Claim that Chickens are Few and are Wilder Than March Hares

HARD WORK HUNTING YESTERDAY

Number of Chickens Sacked No Where the Number Taken Last Year

The festive prairie chicken is the much discussed subject today for as the hunters return one by one to the city they have their stories to tell and everyone is anxious to find out "how many they got."

Generally speaking chicken hunting for the first day of the year did not anywhere compare with last years shooting, and a great many disappointments resulted. However, there were a few parties who brought in fairly good size sacks of birds. There are but few chickens in this vicinity this year as compared with former years and what chickens there are wilder than March hares.

Some parties bagged as many as 16 or 17 birds, but on the whole the number secured was much less. Nearly all the Brainerd nimrods who went out have returned to the city, not feeling as enthusiastic as they were when they started out night before last or yesterday morning. The stories of the number shot by the different parties might be a good thing to publish, but they vary so as to number that to strike a fair average one would have to have the tact of a Philadelphia lawyer.

KILL THREE BEARS

AT EDGE OF CITY

Rev. H. W. Knowles, A. A. Pearce
and William Dodd Figure in Exciting Episode

LOOK FOR CHICKENS FIND BEAR

A. A. Pearce Had Narrow Escape
From Dangerous Attack by Another Bear

Three bears were killed last evening by Rev. H. W. Knowles, A. A. Pearce and William Dodd within the city limits and the incidents in connection with the episode are best explained by Rev. Mr. Knowles who furnished THE DISPATCH with the following account:

"I have been nominated to write you an account of the killing of three bears within the city limits last night by Messrs. Dodd, Pearce and Knowles. It came about this wise. About fifteen minutes to seven Mr. Pearce and myself were returning from a fruitless tramp around the Gibb's school house district for chickens when we reached Dodd's greenhouse en route for home. Mr. McCullough, of the poor farm, was talking with Misses Rose and Faulkner, and as we came into the sphere of the conversation he turned to us and jollied us about going so far when the game was nearer home, at the same time calling our attention to a bear cub lying in a little go-cart. The young ladies pushed the cart over to our team and we saw "sure enough" a real bear cub. Then we were told that only a few minutes previous four bears had been seen by the girls in the garden close to the house, (Faulkner's or Rose's I do not know which), and that Mr. Dodd had run at the alarm and shot one of the cubs. His rifle failing to work at the second shot, the bears had escaped into the brush and were then being trailed by several boys and men. Catching the excitement we turned the horses into the side line running north from Dodd's to the track and McCullough followed with his team. About three hundred yards down the road we came to the hunt. Mr. Rose had headed them off and they, the bears, had crossed the road just ahead of us. Mr. Pearce had three cartridges with buck shot he happened to put into his bag, half wondering why he did it when we started out for chickens. I had only No. 7 shot, but trusted that the big bear might fall to Pearce and the cubs to me. Gordon, the setter, soon took the trail and within five minutes he had caught up with the trio. This so incensed the old bear that she turned the tables and with guttural wrath took after Gordon. It was a pretty steep chase for a couple of minutes. On they came till within two rods, dog and bears so close that shooting with shot might have killed both the dog as well as the bear, so close were the two. In a flash the bears seeing the crowd turned into the thick willows skirting a bog. Quick as thought the dog wheeled and gave chase. Then the fun became fast and furious. It was all over in a jiffy. "Here they come", shouted the crowd, "stand back", shouted Pearce, for fear that the boys might be hurt, for the old bear was madder than a hornet. I caught sight of the cub climbing a tree and started to drop it, when with a rush and a roar that meant business the old bear charged the dog. Running backward, for the trail was so narrow and the bear so fast, the dog couldn't turn, and the dog went past our legs, brushing mine in his hurry, and the bear came out. It was so dark that it was more guess than definite aim that enabled Pearce to bowl the old bear over as he did. Running at full speed, mouth open and roaring with that peculiar staccato guttural that once heard at close quarters, is never forgotten, she turned at us without a break in her rush. At this juncture truth compels me to state that my Epworth League president uttered an exclamation not found in the prayer book. I have no knowledge of its origin, but I can realize its force under such circumstances. With one step back, almost butting against me, his right hand support, he shouted, "holy smoke!" and fired. The bear's was not two feet from the muzzle of the gun. Instantly the air was thick with the cloud of smoke from the discharge. Stepping backward for the second shot, expecting that she was still on the run, Pearce fell backward his foot having caught in a root. I stepped in between him and the smoke and waited for results; and am candid enough to say that I hoped I might see where to aim, having only bird shot. But, looking down, I saw her nose within three feet of me, and she was dead. The charge had fortunately struck her fair in the face, killing her instantly. With a feeling of relief I turned my attention to the cub, who was near the top of the tree, taking notes with evident anxiety. It was easy work to fetch him down. It was now too dark to look for the other cub. At this juncture a small army of men and boys had arrived armed with several styles of weapons. So loading the bears on McCullough's hay rack we drove home thankful that the thing happened as it did. There was a moment when I knew there were possibilities of an ugly chance for an ugly scrap. McCullough with a load of boys as guard, drove back to town and hung up the bears at F. S. Walker's meat shop, where they now are."

THE FIRST MARKET DAY IN BRAINERD

Weather Dampens the Ardor of Those Interested Somewhat
On First Day

SOME FINE STOCK SHOWN

Stock Driven to the City From Many Miles—Prizes Awarded by the Judges

Brainerd's first market day was a success from the standpoint of attendance and the enthusiasm and interest shown by the farmers, notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather put a damper on things.

The haymarket this afternoon presents a busy scene and the productiveness of the farms of Crow Wing county is emphatically emphasized. Farmers drove in from long distances with cattle notwithstanding the condition of the weather and a larger number with displays of cattle, horses and swine are present than was anticipated.

A committee composed of Dr. Camp, M. J. Reilly and A. Purdy is going over the stock this afternoon and the prizes are being awarded. This list will be published later.

There are not as many buyers present as was expected but this may be accounted for from the fact that the weather is bad and they were probably impelled to stay away on this account.

HOPPE-HOFFBAUER WEDDING

Mr. Albert F. Hoppe and Miss Julia Hoffbauer United in Marriage at the Home of the Bride

A pretty home wedding occurred at nine o'clock this morning at the home of Mrs. Bertha Bruce, when her daughter Miss Julia Hoffbauer and Mr. Albert F. Hoppe were joined in the holy bonds of matrimony, the Rev. D. W. Lynch officiating. Through banks of flowers and ferns, preceded by two little flower girls, May and Daisy Bruce, came the happy couple to the strains of the wedding march played by John A. Hoffbauer and Miss Ida Hoffbauer, brother and sister of the bride, and when in the presence of the relatives of the contracting parties Father Lynch impressively pronounced the solemn words which joined two hearts.

The bride wore a handsome gown of cream colored silk mull and lace, and carried bridal roses. She is an accomplished musician, charming and talented, and enjoys a wide circle of acquaintances. The groom, who has made his home in Brainerd since childhood is an exemplary young man, a popular employee of the N. P. shops, and is well liked by all his associates. After the ceremony a sumptuous wedding breakfast was served.

THE DISPATCH and their many friends extend the heartiest congratulations and wish them long life, prosperity and all possible happiness. The happy couple left for the twin cities at noon and will also visit Dubuque, Iowa.

SERMONS FOR LABORING MEN

Sec. Herbert Wood, of Trades and Labor Assembly, Invites Pastors to Preach

Appropriate Sermons Tomorrow

The Trades and Labor assembly has received a communication from W. E. McEwen, secretary of the State Federation of Labor, in which he asks that all the pastors of the city be invited to preach appropriate sermons tomorrow appertaining to "Labor Day."

Sec. Wood, of the local assembly wrote to the various pastors of the city making the request and it is thought that in nearly all the churches this plan will be followed out. Rev. H. W. Knowles will speak tomorrow night on an appropriate subject and invites all who can to be present. Rev. J. F. McLeod, of the First Presbyterian church, will speak on, "Conscience in the Everyday Life of Men, as appertaining to the Welfare of Capital and Labor."

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

"THE PARADERS".

"The Paraders" will be the attraction at the Brainerd opera house tonight.

The gowns used in this presentation of "The Paraders" should prove of unusual interest to the women. They are said to be the latest creations of the Paris Modistes' art and are worn by Miss Rosalie Sheldon, the prima donna. Miss Sheldon is a prima donna of note, who for several years sang in concert. She has an imposing stage presence and a soprano voice of rare sweetness. She but lately returned from the continent to assume the leading part in "The Paraders". The gowns worn by her were selected during a visit to Paris, and were made by Worth & Redfern, the celebrated Parisian modistes, and cost Miss Sheldon an average of one thousand dollars each. Among the gowns worn by Miss Sheldon in "The Paraders" are the following creations: for instance, the rainbow gown, made of textile silk, skillfully woven to represent a rainbow; glittering beneath a surface of spangled white lace, as fine as the mesh of a cobweb; a flight of black birds, arrow like, winging their way from the corsage to the hem of the gown, the entire effect being symbolic of the beauties of spring and the first showers of summer. Prices $1, 75, 50 and 25c.

"DORA THORNE" LABOR DAY.

The Labor Day attraction at the Brainerd opera house, matinee and night, will be "Dora Thorne", a dramatization of Bertha M. Clay's novel which has stirred the world.

Time only increases its value, and enhances its popularity proving more than all else its useful work in the literary world. A story full of humor and pathos, well defined characters, and sincere heart interest; "Dora Thorne" is indeed full of material to make one of the most successful of the many dramatized novels.

Messrs. Rowland and Clifford, the well known and popular amusement caterers, will place this play before the public with a fine cast of players and beautiful scenic equipment; every care and attention will be given to make this production praiseworthy in all respects. All who have read the novel—and who have not—cannot help but feel refreshed and benefitted by this wholesome play. Prices 75, 50, 35 and 25c. Matinee prices 25 and 10c.

"IN OLD KENTUCKY."

Theatre-goers will be delighted to know that an early booking here is the popular American melodrama, "In Old Kentucky", which comes with a splendid scenic equipment, a largely increased pickaninny band. "In Old Kentucky" has an enviable record. It has been continuously before the public for more than a dozen years and is a strong appeal to all classes of theatre-goers. There is something in it that pleases everybody and people go to see it year after year with the same regularity that they attend the circus. If there is anybody in town who has never seen "In Old Kentucky", they will make no mistake in attending the performance. Those who have seen it before will probably go again. The pickaninnyes are always enjoyable, no matter how many times they have been seen. It is unfortunate that there are not more plays of "In Old Kentucky's" high standard of merit now-a-days.

Schubert Symphony Club

We have it on good authority that negotiations are under way for a return performance in our city about Sept. 15, by that pleasing musical organization—The Schubert Symphony Club and Lady Quartette of Chicago. Many of our readers have heard this popular company and no doubt everyone knows of the high favor in which its eight years of success has placed it. The great variety and popular character of this company's program has endeared it to the hearts of American music-lovers, until today it stands undoubtedly first in their affections. Their new program is said to be the best they have ever presented, and no doubt their house will be large here if they are secured for an entertainment.

Insanity, Death or Health?

No. 2807 Locust Street,
St. Louis, Mo., March 29, 1903.

I was a victim of sleeplessness and extreme nervousness for eighteen months, unable to get a proper night's rest and feeling tired and worn out continually. I was easily irritated and hysterical at the slightest provocation, but Wine of Cardui gave me great relief. Within a week after I began using it I had my first real good night's rest that I had had for months. My appetite was soon restored, my general system toned up and nervousness became a thing of the past.

I am so pleased to acknowledge the great curative merit of your health giving medicine and gladly endorse it.

WINE of CARDUI

We want to call your attention to the complete and immediate relief Mrs. Best secured by taking Wine of Cardui. Within a week after she began taking Wine of Cardui, Mrs. Best had her first good night's rest for eighteen months. Her restlessness was caused by nervousness and Wine of Cardui, as the best menstrual regulator, has no superior in the world as a medicine to soothe a woman's nerves. Nervousness and hysteria are warnings of the approach of insanity and if relief is not secured the end can only be the asylum or the grave. With such an outlook as this before her, no suffering woman can reasonably refuse to give Wine of Cardui a trial. It brings a cure that thousands of women have sought for in vain. Will you secure a bottle of Wine of Cardui today and start treatment?

STRIKE MAY SPREAD

JOB PRINTERS IN OTHER CITIES THAN CHICAGO LIKELY TO BE CALLED OUT.

TO WEAKEN THE EMPLOYERS

GENERAL STRIKE WOULD PRE-VENT THOSE IN CHICAGO
GETTING NEW MEN.

Chicago, Sept. 2.—Spread of the job printers' strike to other cities is a possibility following the arrival of President James Lynch of the International Typographical union Saturday. In a conference here, President Lynch will talk over the situation as it applies to Chicago and the whole country with President Wright, John C. Harding and other Chicago leaders. After the conference an order may be issued calling out printers in several large cities where the national Typothetae has shops.

This action is counselled by some in order to weaken the strength of the Chicago Typothetae. It is urged that with strikes going on in other cities the Chicago Typothetae will be unable to get men to come here to take positions.

The Typothetae convention will be held at Niagara Falls, N. Y., next week. Some of the typographical officers believe they should try to weaken the employers' position by calling the men out before the masters gather at the convention and plan concerted action. The employers here claim they are getting in first-class nonunion men rapidly and will be able to run with full shops open. The printers say it will be impossible for the firms to get capable nonunion printers and that the losses in business will be so heavy that the employers will have to come around to the eight-hour day and closed shop policy.

ENGINEERS IN SESSION.

Will Decide Type of Canal to Be Constructed at Panama.

Washington, Sept. 2.—A notable board of distinguished engineers assembled in Washington Friday upon the request of President Roosevelt to determine the relative feasibility of a sea level or lock canal in the division of the American continent at the Isthmus of Panama. Constituting the consulting board of engineers for the canal plan, these men gathered from America and Europe were picked from among those foremost in their profession. The first of the meetings at which they will grapple with the great problem began Friday morning in a small room at the office building of the Isthmian canal commission. The proceedings were opened by the reading of the letter of the president calling them together and a letter from Chairman Shonts of the commission, which gives in detail the purposes for which the engineers are convened. In the president's order it is called the "consulting board of engineers" but the letter of Chairman Shonts is addressed to the "advisory board of engineers upon plans for the Panama canal."

It is asserted that a food famine is imminent on the Isthmus on account of the yellow fever quarantine.

FOUND GUILTY OF MURDER.

Weakley and Sherman Sent to Prison for Life.

Detroit, Sept. 2.—Frank Weakley, alias Harry Parker, and Tom Sherman, alias Harry Johnson, of Independence, Mo., were Friday found guilty of murdering Pawnbroker Joseph Moyer in his shop here July 28, and sentenced to life imprisonment. The men had been on trial since August 12. They were arrested in Cleveland, O., Aug. 5, one week after the murder, and part of the jewelry stolen from Moyer's shop was found on them. Several days after their arrest they made a confession to the police, which they later denied.

SWEDEN WILL GIVE IN.

Likely to Withdraw Demand for Razing Forts on Norway's Frontier.

Copenhagen, Sept. 2.—It is expected that the negotiations between Norway and Sweden will soon result in a full agreement on the subject of the dissolution of the union. Well informed persons predict that Sweden will give up her claim for the razing of the fortresses on the Norwegian frontier, being satisfied if the forts are not armed.

Karlstad, Sweden, Sept. 2.—The Swedish and Norwegian commissioners appointed to consider the dissolution of the union of Sweden and Norway met again during the morning and in the afternoon. The Swedish conditions were submitted at the morning session. The utmost secrecy was maintained. Not a word was given out officially or unofficially.

Suicides on His Mother's Grave.

Chicago, Sept. 2.—Kneeling at the side of his mother's grave in Rosehill cemetery, Harry L. Hoffman, who recently came from St. Louis, Friday shot himself in the temple, dying two hours later at the Alexian Brothers' hospital. The suicide was witnessed by a throng of mourners returning from a funeral.

UNIQUE CHAPELS.

Feature of Cathedral of St. John Without Ecclesiastical Precedent.

It is planned to make the new Cathedral of St. John the Divine, now in process of erection at Morningside heights, New York, a church representative on American soil of all the nations that have contributed their people to the upbuilding of the United States. The plan for extending in a single great edifice opportunities for foreign born worshippers of many modes of speech to attend services conducted in their native tongues is entirely without precedent in ecclesiastical annals.

That such opportunities may exist the trustees of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine have made the seven chapels of the church national sanctuaries where alien Christians may worship in their own languages. One has been completed already and is popularly called the Belmont chapel from the fact that the well known New York banker, August Belmont, gave $100,000 for its erection in memory of his mother. Another, on which work is beginning, will be a memorial to Mary Rhinelander King and is the gift of Mrs. Edward King of New York and Newport. The latter is to be called the Scot's chapel and dedicated in the name of St. Columba, being the chapel of the British rite.

The Belmont memorial is officially designated the chapel of the oriental rite, dedicated to the Holy Name and is to be called in common use St. Saviour's chapel. It is the easternmost of the seven, and it was therefore considered most appropriate to give it the name and dedication decided upon. With the rise of mariolatry, as theologians call the worship of the Virgin Mary, it became the custom in the middle ages to add a "lady chapel" to the eastern end of all large churches, and so universal did this custom become that a cathedral without such a sanctuary is not now regarded as complete. The title "lady chapel" did not seem appropriate, however, for any portion of a Protestant cathedral built after the Reformation.

The seven chapels, which are to be built as fast as the funds for them are forthcoming, will stand about the choir of the cathedral in a semicircle. Each will be a little church large enough for about a hundred persons, and the group will be separated from the rest of the edifice by a corridor, from which they will be entered. The five remaining structures are to be the Swedes chapel, that of the Scandinavian rite; the Holland chapel, that of the German rite; the Italian chapel, the Huguenot chapel and the chapel of the Mozarabic rite, to be called the Spanish chapel.

MONUMENT TO A HORSE.

Massive Granite Figure in Memory of Portland (Me.) Man's Pet Steed.

John H. Carroll, who removed to Gosham, Me., several years ago and built a handsome residence, is the only living member of one of Portland's distinguished families, says the Portland (Me.) Express. In the center of a triangular piece of land opposite Mr. Carroll's house there has recently been erected a monument that has attracted much attention. A massive block of granite twelve feet in length forms the base upon which rests a handsome upper stone, one side of which bears these words: "A loving and faithful friend, Prince." On the other side is the full figure of a horse.

Prince had been owned by his master eighteen years, and the friendship between them was deep and sincere. John Heald of Portland sold Prince to Mr. Carroll when he was six years old, and at first he was so high spirited that he was almost unmanageable, and his new master feared that he would not be able to keep him. Mr. Heald urged him to give the handsome creature a longer trial. Kindness was the key that won the heart of Prince, and Mr. Carroll soon found that by gentle treatment he could do anything with the noble beast. Prince knew his master's footsteps, and when he heard him approach the stable he would whinny and stamp with joy.

IT IS WILKES-BARRE NOW.

Name of Pennsylvania City Changed to Please Citizens.

President Roosevelt has ordered that hereafter the name of the city of Wilkesbarre shall be spelled "Wilkes-Barre," with a hyphen and a capital B, says a special dispatch to the New York Herald.

When Mr. Roosevelt was at Wilkesbarre on Aug. 10 Mayor Kirkendall and Bishop Hoban told him residents of the city objected to an arbitrary decision of the postoffice department made some years ago to spell it without a hyphen and with a small B—"Wilkesbarre." He inquired about the city's history, and, learning it had been named after Colonel Wilkes and Colonel Barre, he promised to have the official spelling changed to the original form.

Mayor Kirkendall received a letter from the president recently announcing that he had ordered the postoffice department to make the change.

Alligators as Presents.

Harry Stevens of Sanford, Fla., who has recently been visiting friends at Ashley, near Wilkesbarre, Pa., brought with him from the south twelve novel presents, says the Philadelphia Press. They are twelve small alligators, and he has distributed them to Ashley friends. The alligators are about a foot long, and Sanford caught them in the Florida marshes. They often grow to a length of seventeen or eighteen feet and when small are worth $5 each. While they are all right now as they are small, the friends who have received them are wondering what they will do with them when they grow large.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Brainerd, Minn., Aug. 26, 1905.

TO THE PUBLIC:

In justice to my employer, Mr. Leo. Zekman, and myself I take this means of correcting what I believe to be a breach of business courtesy as well as an injustice to our dual interests in the fur business.

I was formerly employed by A. Zekman, but have not been affiliated with him now for several months, but with MR. LEO. ZEKMAN, 86 SO. SEVENTH ST., MINNEAPOLIS, MINN. My former employer is also in the same line of business in Minneapolis, and naturally it is rather conflicting and mistakes are excusable, but I wish to remind all in this manner that I am not now, nor have I been for several months in the employ or in any manner connected with A. Zekman, and any misrepresentations which have or are now being made by him, will serve to no good purpose in the end. It is not my purpose to belittle or cast any reflections on a competitor, but I am certainly justified in making this announcement to prevent repetitions of transactions which A. Zekman has attempted to carry on with patrons who thought they were dealing with the house with which I am connected. Several instances have been reported to me of advantage having been taken by A. Zekman, he having represented to intending purchasers that I was still in his employ.

This announcement I consider especially important at this time as there will be a large number of my patrons and friends in Minneapolis during State Fair week, and they should make no mistake, LEO. ZEKMAN, not A. Zekman, is the furrier represented by me.

Respectfully Yours,

I. KRAYWETZ.

GRAND DUKE "CUT" WITTE.

Czar's Brother Affronted Russian Statesman and Apologized.

There was a crisis at St. Petersburg about two years ago in consequence of a quarrel between the Grand Duke Michael, brother of the czar and then heir presumptive to the Russian throne, and M. Witte, the czar's minister of finance, recalls the Boston Transcript. At a state ball the grand duke ignored the minister's bow and gave him the cut direct. M. Witte's face showed no trace of annoyance. He passed on through the crowded ballroom as if he had not noticed the public affront.

High officials who had sought his favor the day before fell away from him. They avoided conversation with the man whom they thought to be disgraced in the eyes of his imperial master and gathered instead around the grand duke. M. Witte's isolation was as complete as that of Richelieu on "the day of fools," when not a single courtier attended his levee, because all thought the king had quarreled with him finally.

Like Richelieu, M. Witte was the victor. The next day he sought an audience with the czar and placed the facts of the case before him.

Because, in his capacity of finance minister, he had felt it his duty to refuse the grand duke certain large sums of money for military purposes, the latter had publicly insulted him. Unless the grand duke apologized to him privately and made atonement as publicly as the insult he would, he declared, be obliged to leave the czar's service.

The czar appealed to him to reconsider this decision, and related out how difficult it would be, in view of the dignity which hedges the Russian imperial family, to make the grand duke apologize.

"I appreciate that, sire," M. Witte answered, in effect, "and I make no demand for an apology. You will, then, allow me to retire from my offices. My usefulness to you and to the empire is necessarily ended by this incident. No influence or authority can be left to me."

At the next court function the grand duke made a point of greeting the finance minister warmly before the latter had time to bow to him.

Many Presents For Miss Roosevelt.

Not only has a shower of compliments fallen upon Miss Alice Roosevelt throughout her visit to the southern islands, but substantial presents have come to her as well. The sultan of Sulu, through his prime minister, presented to her a pink pearl of so remarkable a tint that many collectors of gems doubtless would give a great deal to possess it. The chief dattos also expressed their interest in the president's daughter by gifts of pearls and a decorated saddle. As if the American party had not been entertained sufficiently, a programme of native sports, including a spear dance and a bullfight, was arranged for them. The sultan, dressed in attire that was far from the American standard of summer outing comfort and attended by his minister and armed umbrella bearers, rode into the arena and greeted Secretary Taft. After the entertainment Miss Roosevelt and the other Americans were taken for a drive through the cocoanut groves.
